

I N T R O D U C I N G

MixUW

Alpha Sall, Brian Liao, Chandra Burnham, Jay Quedado, Rona Guo
INFO 200 Final Project

Problem Summary

Local and non-local students at the University of Washington face challenges in forging relationships with one another.

Our final project aims to explore solutions for bridging the social gap between domestic and international students.

Target users

In-state students

Out-of-state students

International students

About MixUW

Connect with diverse groups of students in chat rooms.

Share posts and interact with the UW community.

Discover events on campus and meet other people.

About MixUW

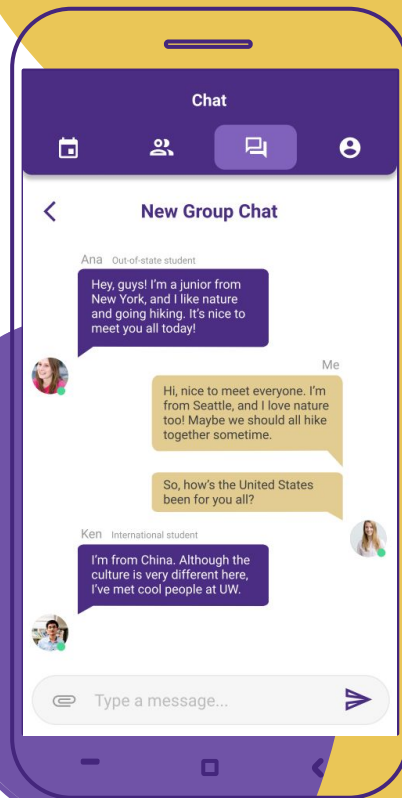

Connect with diverse groups of students in chat rooms.

Share posts and interact with the UW community.

Discover events on campus and meet other people.

About MixUW

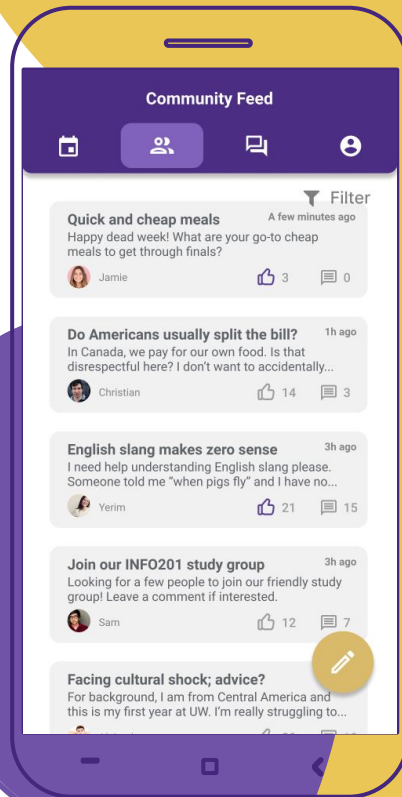

Connect with diverse groups of students in chat rooms.

Share posts and interact with the UW community.

Discover events on campus and meet other people.

About MixUW

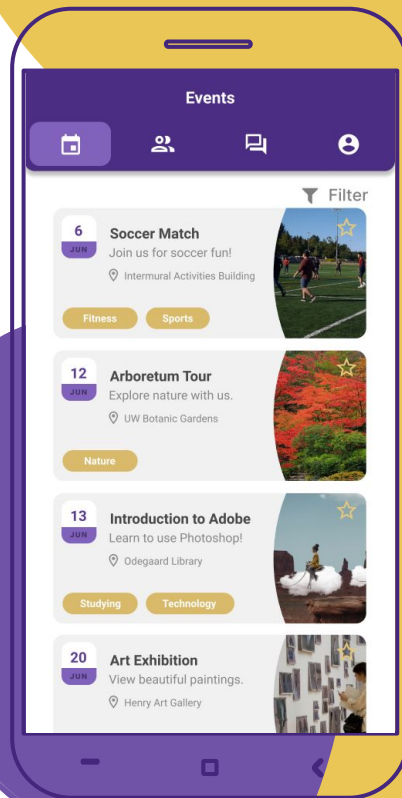

Connect with diverse groups of students in chat rooms.

Share posts and interact with the UW community.

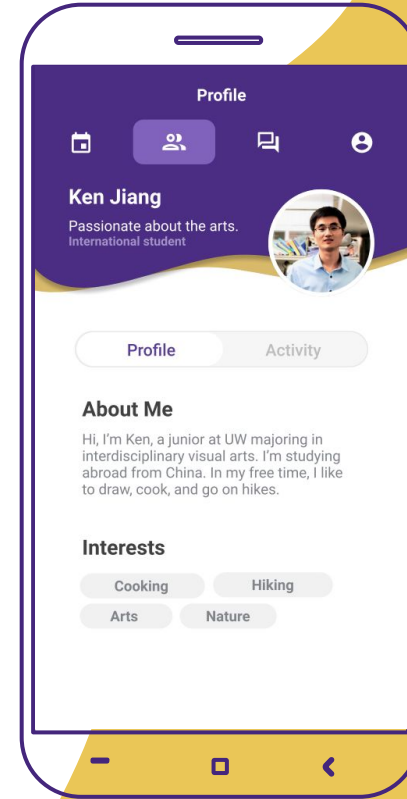

Discover events on campus and meet other people.

User scenario 1

Ken is an international student from China, and this is how MixUW will help him:

- Find more local students to connect with
- Find others with similar interests
- Help him understand the culture of Seattle better
- Help him find on-campus resources
- Find others to work with academically

User scenario 2

Mia is a local student from Redmond, WA, and this is how MixUW will help her:

- Help her connect with international students
- Learn more about other cultures
- Introduce international student to different RSO's (Unite UW etc...)
- Help her meet peers with similar interests
- Diversify her friend group

